

NOBLE COUPLE, TO HUNT IN MOMBASA.

Lord and Lady Delamere.

Lord and Lady Delamere Will Roam Through the Dark Continent—Killed Fourteen Lions in Two Months.

London, Oct. 21.—That mighty hunter, Lord Delamere, will shortly leave England for Mombasa. That his lordship anticipates no especial dangers on the trip is evinced by the fact that Lady Delamere and her sister, Lady Kathleen Cote, will accompany him.

The marriage, which will be remembered as a particularly pretty one, only took place a few weeks ago at St. Paul's, Knightsbridge.

Lord Delamere started on his first trip to Africa in 1891, and his was regarded as one of the most completely equipped expeditions that ever left this country. The dining tent was 18 feet long, and the dining table 9 feet, made so as to take, when packed, about as much room as three good-sized portfolios. Lord Delamere remained in Africa until nearly the close of 1894, his return being somewhat delayed by a fever he contracted on his way up country.

In the course of a two months' stay in Somaliland no fewer than fourteen lions were killed, and their skins sent home to be prepared by Mr. Rowland Ward. Two of the specimens, each of which measured over ten feet in length, were exceptionally fine.

Again, in 1896 Lord Delamere sought adventure in the Dark Continent, and passed beyond the limits usually visited by English sportsmen, accompanied by a doctor, a naturalist, and a photographer, and had some 200 natives as a bodyguard. For some months nothing was heard of the explorer and hunter, and some fears were entertained for his safety, but finally a letter was received from a missionary at Berbera, stating that he had received news that Lord Delamere and Dr. Atkinson were on their way thither from the interior.

They travelled from Zanzibar to the Lakes Rudolf and Stefanie, then turned northward toward the Upper Nile. Again striking eastward, they passed the southern borders of Abyssinia, through British Somaliland to the coast, and returned safely to England in October, 1898.

Vale Royal, Lord Delamere's seat in Cheshire, is an interesting building, being part of the ancient convent, to which additions were made by the Holcotes. It is of red stone, 60 feet in length, 30 feet in width, and is hung with armor and military weapons, and the windows contain the arms of Cheshire families.

GUTENBERG'S MEMORY TO BE HONORED.

Extensive Preparations for a Big Anniversary Celebration Next June.

Berlin, Oct. 21.—The five hundredth anniversary of the birth of Johann Gutenberg, the inventor of the art of printing, will be celebrated at his birthplace, Mainz-on-the-Rhine, in June, 1900. The festival is to be an international one, and a "printing exhibition," to which all nations are invited to contribute, will be opened on the first day of the festival.

The exhibition will be arranged in three distinct classifications: First, historical; second, graphic, and third, mechanical. The first will illustrate the development of printing in different ages and among different races.

The second will attempt to give as complete a survey as possible of the reproductions of graphic art by means of the printing press in the present age.

The third will contain the most modern machinery of the press.

WHOLESALE CHILD MURDER IN LONDON.

Growsome Traffic in Infants Given Out for Adoption.

London, Oct. 21.—The police are actively engaged in investigating a case of child murder, which may not improbably result in the discovery of a scheme as base as that for which Mrs. Dyer suffered the extreme penalty of the law.

For some time past bodies of children who have apparently been murdered have been found on the foreshore of the Thames and elsewhere, and in nearly every case the matter has ended with the usual open verdict.

But in connection with the latest of these growsome discoveries there are circumstances which it is hoped will lead to the arrest of the guilty party or parties. On Wednesday last the body of a child, about two years of age, was found in the Thames mud, near Battersea bridge. The head was enveloped in part of a old sack, two pieces of cord were tightly fastened round the neck, and one side of the skull was badly smashed. On the body being examined by Dr. Kempster, the divisional surgeon, that gentleman gave it as his opinion that the child had died from suffocation and blows before being placed in the river.

When inquiries were made it was found that the child answered the description of one which had been reported as missing under singular circumstances.

The mother, a young woman, residing at Woolwich, appears to have answered one of the spurious advertisements which appear in certain papers, and to have gone into communication with a woman who gave an address at Hammersmith. An arrangement was made, so it is said, that the child should be wholly adopted, on condition that the sum of $15 was paid. As a result, the child and the money were handed over to the woman.

A short time after the mother went to the address, to find that the woman had disappeared, having only stayed there one night. Not being able to trace her, she gave information to the police, and has since, it is stated, identified the murdered child as her own.

RUSSIA SPREADING ITS WIDE SWAY.

Not Only the Far East, but the Near East is to be Russified.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—A striking sign of the steady growth of Russia's influence in the Near East is to be seen in the recent announcement that the Governments of Bulgaria and Roumania have removed the import duties hitherto levied on Russian produce. Henceforth all kinds of fish, caviare, vegetables, and such Russian products will be allowed to enter those countries duty free.

For some time the Bulgarian and Roumanian authorities have thrown every obstacle in the way of this branch of Russian trade from Odessa and other ports of the Black Sea, and the Russian Black Sea & Danube Steamship Company has on several occasions been compelled to take steps to get these restrictions upon trade removed.

Quite recently the company applied directly to the Russian representatives in both these Balkan States, and this time their efforts have not been in vain. Russia believes firmly in the doctrine of protection, and as there is no mention of any reciprocal concessions in this case, it is to be concluded that these Balkan States have had to yield to pressure.

FIRST SYNAGOGUE IN PORTO RICO OPENED.

New York Hebrews on Ponce Organize Their Co-Religionists and Have Services.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Oct. 21.—The Rev. Dr. Adolph Spiegel, a New York rabbi, has organized here the first Jewish-American congregation in the island. Since annexation there has been a steady stream of enterprising Hebrews arriving, principally from the United States, and there is now quite a large Jewish communion here.

The initial service was held in a hall yesterday. Nathan Flinkelstein, of a New York firm, is president of the congregation. Louis Harris, manager of the Quarter-master's Department, and a cousin of the famous Dr. Herzl, leader of the Zion movement, is vice-president. H. Berkovitz, a New York importer, is treasurer, and among the principal members are Consul Reems, representing Holland here; Dr. Alexander, and Dr. Meyer.

At the service to-day a special prayer of thanks was offered for the release of Captain Dreyfus.

Local Church News.

At Temple Emanuel, Dr. G. Gottlieb will preach to-day on the subject, "A People Taught of the Lord," Isaiah iv, 15.

A service specially for actors and actresses will be held in St. Christy's Church, Seventh avenue and Thirty-ninth street, by the Rev. Dr. Christian this morning.

The Metropolitan Independent Church will meet hereafter permanently in Carnegie Lyceum, corner of Fifty-seventh street and Seventh avenue. The Rev. Henry Frank will deliver the sermon this morning.

The Rev. Stephen S. Wise will deliver the opening address on "Zionism" in this year's course before the Y. M. H. A. of Williamsburg this evening.

In the afternoon he is to lecture at the Synagogue in Easton.

The Rev. Dr. Albert H. Studeraker was installed on Thursday night as pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Sixth avenue and Second street, Brooklyn. He succeeded the Rev. C. Main, recently deceased.

The new stations of the cross which have been imported for St. Patrick's Cathedral will soon be placed in position. The work of cutting out places for them in the north and south transepts was begun last week.

The Sisters of St. Joseph will be able to open the new St. John's Hospital in Long Island City in a few weeks as a result of the progressive church party, concert and reception given last Monday evening at Grand Central, in aid of the supplies of various Catholic societies.

To-day the platform at Music Hall will be occupied by Dr. Felix Adler, who will deliver the first address of the season. The subject of his discourse will be "Conflicting Views as to the Influence of the Late Robert G. Ingersoll." Sunday school opens at 9:30 a. m. at No. 109 West Fifty-fourth street.

A large congregation heard Dr. A. G. Dixon preach at the Hudson Place Baptist Church, Brooklyn, last Sunday evening on "The Personality of the Devil," and it was the first in a series of Sunday evening sermons on "The Devil and His Doings." This evening the subject will be "The Devil in the Pulpit." This morning Dr. Dixon will preach on "The Invisible Christ Administering Discipline."

On the first Sunday of February, at St. Bridget's Church, on Avenue B, will be celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the dedication of the church, and also the Feast of St. Bridget. It is the intention of the rector, the Rev. Patrick F. McSweeney, boys of St. Bridget's parish who are now priests and have them attend all the functions of the celebration.

At All Saints' Church, Seventh avenue and Seventh street, Brooklyn, the Rev. William Morrison, rector, has again commenced the monthly musical services which attracted so much attention and which large congregations last Winter. Last Sunday evening the first service was given, and was well attended, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. These services will henceforth be held on the first Sunday evening of each month.

Adolescents of the Thirty-fourth Street Reformed Church will give a reception to the pastor's assistant, Mr. J. H. Richardson, and his bride on Monday evening in the hall of the church, for more information of the church, which is now a flourishing organization, will hold its monthly meeting on Monday evening at 7:30 in the consistory room. Recently these ladies provided a box of clothing and needed articles for a missionary in the West. Much interest has been awakened by the announcement of a union Bible training class to be held in this church. The first study will be conducted on Monday evening, October 30, one week from to-morrow. This class will take up practical studies designed to give young people a better knowledge of the Bible, and to give them a better understanding of the Church in their own church homes. No expense is attached. Circulars giving list of topics, etc., will be sent out in a few days.

Big Naphtha Well Found.

A dispatch from Grozny, in the Caucasus, states that a new and enormous fountain of naphtha of extraordinarily pure quality has just been tapped in that neighborhood at the comparatively shallow depth of 400 feet. The force of the outflow is so great that the mineral oil shoots up in a steadily maintained column to an altitude of 250 feet above the bore mouth. The yield is estimated at 8,000 tons in the twenty-four hours.

TAPE WORMS

"A tape worm eighteen feet long at least came on the scene after my taking two CASCARETS. This I am sure has caused my bad health for the past three years. I am still taking Cascarets, the only cathartic worthy of notice by sensible people."

PEOPLE sometimes buy shades without regard to the quality of the rollers on which they are mounted. The best shades on inferior rollers are a source of annoyance. The Genuine—Hartshorn Shade Rollers will give satisfaction, because they are properly constructed.

have many advantages such as unbreakable brackets, fine bearings, scientifically constructed springs and holders for fastening on the shade, doing away with all tacks. The shade when placed on will stay on. As the market is flooded with imitations, more or less worthless, the public is cautioned to see that the autograph of Stewart Hartshorn appears on all rollers they purchase.

FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY.

DEEP down in the heart of every man there lurks some feeling of remorse, some regret for past folly or deed. Occasionally this effect, this impulse, is purely mental, but oftener physical as well. The stain of youthful indiscretions or excesses of a private nature in after years lead to a condition of suffering, both mental and physical; a state we term lost vitality, and one embracing many symptoms. It is this disorder of man that has held my attention for over a quarter of a century.

I have spent 30 years in its practical and theoretical study, and when I say to my reader, as an honest opinion, that drugs CANNOT be successfully employed to return lost strength, I am but voicing the conviction of every intelligent physician of the day. Weaknesses peculiar to men embrace a debilitated state of all glands, muscles, and nerves, and always indicate some transgression of nature's laws, some over-demand made upon her reserve force, either through a feeling of recklessness or by reason of ignorance.

There is invariably a corresponding derangement of the nervous system, in time involving the entire organism. Weakness in the small of the back is a prominent symptom which accompanies lost strength, while others of a strictly private nature are better discussed with me in private or by letter. The possibility of a complete restoration of power once lost rests partially, at least, with the patient's own treatment of himself. No one can expect to regain manhood and continue in a life of excess or dissipation.

The nervous system must be carefully dealt with. Let a man once firmly make up his mind to assist nature, let him promise me that he will live a life of moderation, and I can then, and not until then, say to him, as man to man, as physician to patient, there is a remedy for his ills, and that remedy the properly applied and faithfully used galvanic current of electricity.

I think the reader will believe in my seriousness when I say that if he be a sufferer from such weakness, take the electric current where he will and from whom he will as long as he gets it properly and under experienced advice, strength will be his. I am the inventor of a portable home self-electric treatment, as most people know. In fact, there are but few who have not heard of the Dr. Sanden Electric Belt, with suspensory attachment.

In this appliance you get the right current at the right time. You wear the Dr. Sanden Electric Belt comfortably around your waist all night. It cures while you sleep. It sends a pleasant, soothing current, which you feel through the entire weakened organs. It tones up the kidneys, liver and stomach, as well as adding nerve force and energy to the entire system. It weighs but six ounces, and is no more inconvenient than an ordinary belt.

The suspensory attachment to the Dr. Sanden Electric Belt rests directly over the prostate gland and all the nerves and cords which control the muscular action of the organs. It increases the flow of the blood from back to front, thus giving a natural circulation and warmth. Over 6,000 gave willing testimony during 1898.

To any one living in or near by this city I solicit a personal call. I will be found in my office during hours, where I offer free consultation. I am pleased to give any man as much time as he asks, for it is a pleasure to show a genuine article like the Dr. Sanden Electric Belt. It isn't necessary for you to buy. Do that only after you feel you are thoroughly convinced as to what the belt will do.

I am willing for my appliance to stand solely upon its own merit, upon what it has done and is doing to-day. To those who live at a distance I shall be pleased to send my little book, "Three Classes of Men," free in plain sealed envelope. It explains all. I answer letters personally, diagnosing and advising accurately by mail.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.—I am forced to complain to my patrons of the many worthless imitations of the Dr. Sanden Electric Belt which are constantly cropping up. There is but ONE Sanden Belt, and that can be had at my office only. There is no new application of electricity other than the one used by me. I will give $1,000 for the production of any Belt superior to mine.

Don't be deceived by the foolish claims of unscrupulous people. Established in 1872, we are the oldest and largest producers of electro-therapeutic appliances in the world.

There is no unpleasant burning or blistering produced by the Dr. Sanden Belt. Electrodes covered with soft antiseptic material. Write or call to-day.
